

Upcoming BSI Seminar*1 Apr 2025Social class and moral flexibility in the presence of others*

Seminar by Jacinth Tan

Assistant Professor of Psychology, Lee Kong Chian Fellow, SMU

Highlights of Recent BSI Webinars*11 Feb 2025

Yang Ying Jia, PhD Candidate at SMU, presented a webinar titled “Loving Me Before We: Lay Belief of Whole Self and Relationship Readiness”. She discussed the validation of a novel construct called lay belief of the whole self including findings on how it may be associated with one’s readiness for love and relationship.

25 Mar 2025

Joe Simons, Principal Scientist II, at the Institute of High Performance Computing, A*STAR, presented a webinar titled “Promises of language technologies for behavioural scientists: An example from the psychology of attitude”. He discussed how computational models may be used to infer attitude properties (i.e., importance, correctness, moral conviction) from text-based expressions.

About BSI

The Behavioural Sciences Initiative (BSI) is a multi-disciplinary research initiative for creating, disseminating and applying scientific knowledge about human behaviours in various social, organisational and cultural settings. For more information, please refer to our website.